I have various Blues Jr I - III schematics and owners manuals. I'm looking for the schematic for the IV version. There are various posts over the past 2+ years since Fender updated the HR series where claims were made that various Billm or other mods were incorporated. I wanted to do a comparison from the III to the IV to know exactly what was updated in the latest version as opposed to conjecture. Any and all help in locating a IV schematic is greatly appreciated. I've checked the Fender website and it appears that they now longer list the amp schematics or at least have made navigating to that section completely non-intuitive. Other web searches have not turned up a current IV schematic. TIA Reactions: MAP448 It is not listed in their DB of schematics. Do appreciate the info / link to another source even though it didn't pan out. I have a Blues Junior IV and have modified a few BJIII plus my BJIV with some of the popular Billm mods, the only updates that I have noticed is C8 is now a .02uF was .0022uF (Coupling Cap) and R52 is now 27K was 22K (Part of Bias Divider). Those 2 tweaks were Billm mods as well, tone stack is still the same but the Reverb is very laid back now but I haven't really looked to see what is different about that. I have not been able to get a schematic either but the Version III is still very close to the Ver IV. Reactions: Fred G Sent an email to CustomerRelations@fender.com and got a reply that they don't send out schematics. HRC, just a year or 3 ago, they had links to schematics on their web site. To quote Fleetwood Mac, the early years, "Oh Well"... If anyone else happens to have a copy, please post here or PM me. TIA If anyone that has a Blues Junior IV can post 1 or more hi rez pictures of the circuit, that would help me do the next best thing, morph the schematic for the III into the 4 with the updated components. TIA to anyone that can help me out.
