While this woncÁÁAt send notifications from iPhone to Android, youcÁÁAll be able to check the reminders and even copy them into the Google Calendar app. But what if you decide to switch from an iPhone to an Android phone? How to Access iCloud Emails on Android Want to know how to get iCloud email on Android? 5. Simply go to www.icloud.com and sign in with your Apple ID. The Apple Music app is available on Android phones, giving you all your playlists and purchased music. In the Photos view, tap Select Now, tap Select All Tap the three-dot button Choose Download The images in your iCloud will then be downloaded to your Android device as a compressed ZIP file. Here, youcÁÁAll be able to access Apple Mail, reminders, notes, and stripped-down versions of Pages and Numbers. These aren't your only options for accessing iCloud on non-Apple devices. iCloud is a great way to keep your email, contacts, calendar, tasks, and photos synced across your Apple devices. 3. Viewing Apple Reminders on Android Accessing iPhone-based reminders on Android isncÁÁAt as seamless as some of the other options. DoncÁÁAt worry, you woncÁÁAt. 1. Moments later, you'll see your iCloud mail account in the Gmail app. Here, you can view the photos and even download them. 6. You also cannot sync them them using this method. Apple Music for Android DoncÁÁAt want to lose your Apple Music when you switch to Android? Apple doesn't always play nice with other ecosystems, but you can access iCloud on Android with the right apps. Open the iCloud website in your browser and click Contacts. Syncing your contacts between iCloud and Android is relatively straightforward. You probably use Chrome, but any of the current browsers should work for this. Note also that the two systems arencÁÁAt fully compatible, so Google Calendar will not display all of the information that iCloud stores. Click the gear button Select all of your (or a specific group by holding CTRL as you left-click) Click the gear button again and select Export vCard Save the file to your computer In your computer browser open contacts.google.com and sign in with the Google account you use for your Android phone On the left, click Import and browse to the vCard file Click Import and the contacts will be added and begin syncing to your device If you doncÁÁAt use the Google contacts (e.g. you use the Samsung alternative), copy the vCard file to your Android phone or tablet (perhaps using a USB cable, or cloud sync) then import it into your contacts app. YoucÁÁAll need to unzip this to view them on your phone. View iCloud Photos on Android While there is no iCloud for Android app, all the photos youcÁÁAve snapped on your old iPhone can be accessed on Android via the iCloud website. Start by opening the iCloud website in your browser Select the calendar Where the calendar names are listed on the left, click the Wi-Fi style icon In the share box, check Public calendar and copy the link to your clipboard Open Google Calendar in your browser (calendar.google.com) On the left, find Other calendars and click the + symbol Select From URL Paste the calendar link from your iCloud calendar OPTIONAL: if anyone else needs to view the calendar, check the Make the calendar publicly accessible box When done, click Add calendar Your iCloud calendar should now appear in your phone's calendar app, but give it up to 24 hours for complete synchronization. Every Android device comes with the Gmail app, and you can configure this to access your iCloud email account. This basic level of functionality is useful particularly if you are jumping between iPhone and Android (perhaps due to having one for home nd one for work). How to Access and Manage iCloud Drive Files From Any Device iCloud Drive is a handy tool, but accessing your files can be a little confusing since Apple's cloud storage experience differs depending on your platform or device. 7. A little iCloud is really available on Android through your web browser. While this may not be perfect, it is an utlile option to have. However, this should not be a problem if you are completely changing Android, however. On your iPhone, Open Configuration> Passwords and Accounts Click Add account to add your Google account Authenticate your account, then return to the Password and Accounts screen Select the Google account and touch the Notes slider in The Notes application, look for the Gmail header All the notes under this header will synchronize the Gmail application, so move the notes as necessary on Android, open Gmail and find the label of the notes on the left, your notes Apple must be synchronized until here, this is not the smallest way to do things, but gets its Android notes quickly. (Other electronic mail applications will also allow you to get the iCloud mail on Android.) Start by generating an application password for your iCloud email: Add to the Apple ID page and start Sesión on the Manage page, look for the start of session and security. Click on the application. Specific passwords, then generate a specific password for the application, you will be asked to enter a description for the password, then click Create Take a note of the password, since you will need it At a next time, in your Android phone: Open Gmail and touch your email profile icon (usually a profile image, or company logo) Displace to add another account, select another, enter your address E-mail icloud and next touch Add the password you just created, then, Next Gmail will do the rest.
