In addition to the two Billboard charts and the Mediabase chart mentioned above, there are a few other, smaller country music-focused charts that reflect airplay: Billboard Country Indicator chart: This chart reflects data from 109 small-market stations around the country. It¢ÃÂÂs powered by Nielsen Music. Mediabase Activator Country chart: This chart is another small-market chart, comprised of 52 stations, including SiriusXM¢ÃÂÂs The Highway. It¢ÃÂÂs powered and owned by Mediabase. Texas Regional Radio Report chart: As its name suggests, this chart focuses on Texas-based stations, which makes it good for looking at the success of Texas and Red Dirt country artists. Its data comes from 86 stations in Texas and nearby states, along with specialty shows, online radio stations, and satellite shows. MusicRow Breakout chart: Once again, this chart focuses on small markets. Made up of a panel of roughly 75 small-market stations, it¢ÃÂâs powered and controlled by MusicRow magazine in Nashville. Americana Radio Singles chart: Created by the Americana Music Association and powered by CDX TRACtion¢ÃÂÂs chart service, this chart shares reporting radio stations¢Ã play of Americana songs. About 80 terrestrial and internet radio stations are part of the reporting group. In addition to radio airplay-focused charts, there are also charts that rank country songs based on their digital sales and streaming numbers, and charts that rank the top country, bluegrass and Americana albums. 50 Country Songs Everyone Must Hear Before They Die This is an abbreviated Mediabase Report.
